Singing the Songs of Jesus – Revisiting the Psalms by Michael Lefebvre (223.2 LFE). The Psalms were composed for singing. In Old and New Testament times, and throughout Church history, congregations sang Psalms. Despite renewed interest in Psalmody, few books explain how the Psalms function as hymns for Christ-centred worship. Singing the Songs of Jesus fills that gap without shying away from difficulties, like the doubts and curses of the Psalms. This intriguing book shows why the Psalms are suited for Christian praise and how to use them for powerful and relevant worship.

Life Everlasting – Finding True Fulfilment through the Apostles' Creed by Patricia St. John (238.11 STJ). Patricia was not a typical English girl: from her earliest days her life was different to say the least! She was almost born in a storm at sea, moved around Europe as a child and was a young woman as bombs fell on London during the Second World War. As a young nurse, in the middle of mayhem, her heart ached for an answer to the question 'Why?' She found her answers in her Bible. Having found her own peace, do you think she opted for a bit of peach and quiet – no! She left the security of post-war London on the back of her brother's motorcycle and headed for the dusty deserts of Northern Morocco as a medical missionary. The tough life in an alien culture strengthened her faith and she wrote down her experiences as a series of stories using each theme of the Apostle's Creed. Life Everlasting is a collection of these stories.

Nothing wrong with that! But there is a difference between being alone and feeling lonely. Loneliness is a feeling of being isolated and disconnected from those around us. Sometimes when we feel lonely we are being ignored by people, but other times it's the fear of being rejected that keeps us from moving toward people. When that happens often we react by isolating ourselves even more – by pulling into our shells, just like Tori does in this story. How do you help your child with this common struggle? Here are some biblical truths to share with your children when they are feeling lonely.
