

February 2

Legacy of a Legend – “practical divinity in its purist form” by Iain Murray (BIO PAY). Edward Payson (1783-1827) was perhaps the greatest American minister of the first half of the nineteenth century. Hundreds and even thousands named their sons after him. This volume is a fitting introduction to such a great man who walked with God, and longed that others would join him. Legacy of a Legend brings this forgotten saint back to a church desperately in need of heroes. Even a cursory glance through the Table of Contents will attract anyone concerned for their immortal soul.

February 9

Revelation – The Lectio Continua Expository Commentary on the New Testament by Joel R. Beeke (228 BEE). Are you confused by the great variety of interpretations of the book of Revelation, such as the preterist, the historicist, the futurist, the idealist, and an eclectic approach that embraces the strengths of all these? Would you like a clear understanding of various millennial approaches related to the last times? In this book of sermons on Revelation, Joel Beeke gives you all this and much more as he preaches through Revelation in a thoroughly biblical, doctrinal, experiential, and practical way intended to comfort and mature believers, to warn the unsaved to flee to Christ for salvation, and to exalt Christ as the King of kings and only Head of His church.

February 16

Too Wise to be Mistaken Too Good to be Unkind – Christian Parents Contend with Autism by Cathy Steere (248.845 STE). The serious challenges and even griefs which often accompany the presence of an autistic child in a family are well-documented both in medical annals and are all the more imbedded in the memories of those whose homes have suffered this trial. Few stories can be found which offer much encouragement for those in the dilemma. This book is an exception. Cathy Steere shares, with an honesty that cannot be missed, the story of how she and her husband David trained their autistic son Drew in ways that point unmistakably to the sufficiency of God’s Word to guide us in all of life. It is a moving testimony of how God honors those who honor Him and trust His promise more than the emptiness of men’s philosophies. The story will be an encouragement to all parents seeking to train their children in the discipline and instrution of the Lord.

February 23

The Secret in the Box – Stories Children Love #17 by W.G. Van de Hulst (YOUTH FIC VAN SCL-17). The Story: “Catch him!” The children jump: the teacher screams – and Nick and Neil are in trouble. What are they doing with that frog in school? It’s a secret. After school they sneak the frog into their bedroom. Father and Aunt Katie must not see the frog. Mother must not see it either, even though the secret will make her better . . . in the morning. But in the middle of the night – Bump! Crash! Bang! The frog is loose and the boys are in trouble again. Their secret is spoiled. Who will make Mother better now?

